

The Angel of Shangri-La (poem/song lyrics)

A long long time ago
Before my incarnation
I lived in Shangri-La
Everybody wanted to live in Shangri-La
'Cause there was an Angel called Selena
Where the streets had no cars

Now so many years later
After my resurrection
I'm searching for a place called Shangri-La
Everybody wants to live in Shangri-La
'Cause there is an Angel named Selena
Where the street are lined with Teslas

Once I fell in love with the Angel
Now I'm growing old and grey
Would she unfold her wings?
And take me to Shangri-La

I wonder what life would be like
After my second incarnation
I'll be searching for the Angel
'Cause she lives in eternity
I searched everywhere but nobody knows Shangri-La
'Cause Facebook killed Shangri-La

And the Teslas arrived too late
The Sun is scorching Shangri-La
My desire is glowing in the inferno
But it's burning down our love
I'm still looking for Shangri-La
But today nobody cares about Shangri-La

Once I fell in love with the Angel
Now I'm growing old and grey
Would she unfold her wings?
And take me to Shangri-La

Would she unfold her wings?
And take me to Shangri-La
